

Q1

Nearest Neighbor and Classification Tree classifiers overfit to data, i.e. they memorized the training data and are more prone to making errors in the future classifications. On the other hand, Discriminant Analysis and Naïve Bayesian approaches are better in terms of generalizing, i.e. making inferences from already available training data.